Preparation & Change

Preparations are already underway for the High Holy Days which are very early this year. Our TI office is busy getting all the High Holy Day packets with information on tickets, honors, sponsorship opportunities, events, programs and ways to participate. But, before our High Holy Days we have a lot more happening here at Temple Israel! Please mark your calendar we hope to see you ALL on August 24 th for our annual ShaBaBeQue and Open House. We hope you will attend and perhaps bring a friend. Sunday, August 26 our Religious School will start back up and it will be so nice to see all the kids back with us. August, also brings us back to a full programming schedule, meaning that our informal Summer Shabbat Services being held in the Media Center will end in the middle of August when we return to the Kraft Sanctuary for worship services and on Saturday, September 1, is our S'lichot dinner and service.

Whether you've been in town or traveling, we hope that all of you enjoyed this summer and find a renewed spirit to pursue the good work of Temple Israel. Elaine and I look forward to seeing you all soon!

B'Shalom

Our Journey to the High Holy Days

In our old S'lichot prayer book, one of the opening prayers referenced the coming changing of the leaves as we approached the High Holy Days' season. Here in Florida, we are unlikely to notice much change in the foliage as we prepare for the HHDs and so we must look towards other markers to herald its arrival.

One fun marker of the seasons changing is our annual end-of-summer ShaBaBeQue and Open House, held this year on Friday, 8/24. This is our "welcome back" celebration as many of us return from our summer travels and kids return to school. Moreover, this event is also one of our most important events of the year as it is an opportunity for us to showcase what makes us a special place to belong, but it cannot be a success without YOU! What can you do to help?

We need you to invite your friends and extended family to experience how we celebrate Shabbat and to meet all the great people who make up our diverse and committed Jewish family. Truly, the best way for TI to become more sustainable and to be able to offer even more meaningful opportunities to learn and pray together is to make a difference through acts of tikkun olam (community service), and create meaningful opportunities for social interaction is to invite our friends and acquaintances for this fun evening so they can be introduced to TI's great membership themselves.

Another great way to introduce your friends to Temple Israel is through our "Taste of Judaism" class, which begins this year on 8/15. Invite your friends, Jewish or not, to this three-session course where I try to teach as much Jewish theology, philosophy, and history, as I can in six hours. (Also, if you are rusty, or are looking for a great way to get a "bird's eye view" of everything Jewish, this is a great course.) This course is free and open to the entire community, but you MUST pre-register, so please call the Office if you are interested in joining us. (It also makes a great pre-HHDs refresher if you are looking forward to jump-starting your HHDs observance during the Hebrew month of Elul.)

Lastly, I want to mention that at our evening S'lichot service, and throughout the entire month of Elul, we will again be using our new pre-HHDs prayer book, called "Mishkan HaLev," which can roughly be translated as "the dwelling place of the heart." As we approach the HHDs season, each of us is given the opportunity to look inward and reflect upon our behavior in the past year. Taking the process of teshuvah seriously (examining the challenges in our relationships, making wrongs right, and then promising not to repeat the problematic behavior) as we approach Rosh HaShanah can help us move into the new year with a clear conscious and a more pure heart.

Sometimes it is helpful to have an outside person help us process through the steps we can take to move forward in our relationships as we approach our holiest days of the year. Please let me know if you would like to talk, or if I can refer you to a specialist to help you on this journey. I am happy to help any way I can.

Each month, I leave you with a prayer ... this month, as we move towards the High Holy Days' season, may you find all the spiritual and emotional support you need to take the active and necessary steps to mend the difficult relationships in your life and for your own sake and for the sake of others, may you be open to granting and receiving forgiveness.

My door is always open to walk with you, and help you, on your Jewish journey.

Brotherhood Update

Charlie Eaton, MD - Brotherhood President

Recent Events

Temple Israel Brotherhood recently had a wonderful Annual Supporter's Dinner. Brother and Jewish educator Peter Eckstein gave an entertaining and informative presentation on Jewish mysticism. Peter predicted it would be great, and it was. How did he know? Hmmmm..

Upcoming events for Temple Israel Brotherhood

1. Friday, August 24: Temple Israel ShaBaBeQue: Brotherhood will be working behind and in front of the scenes for this one-of-a-kind event.
2. Sunday, August 26: Brotherhood will be providing breakfast and a welcoming presence for the first day of TI religious school.
3. Wednesday, September 26: TI Brothers will assemble once again for Brotherhood Dinner in the Sukkah, featuring Brother Barry Horowitz's famous "This ain't your Bubbe's Brisket!", and much, much more.

Take this fun Brotherhood test!

1. Are you a current member of Temple Israel?
2. Are you a guy?

If you answered yes to both of these questions, congratulations - you are an official Temple Israel Brother!

Now, brother, go back to the list of upcoming events and put these dates on your calendar. The Brotherhood needs you and you need the brotherhood - for you.

Plan to come to these fun events - you'll be glad you did.

The Mussar Moment

Barry S. Horowitz, MD

The Mussar teachers identify a negative spiritual condition they call timtum ha'lev, which literally means "a stopped-up heart." Our hearts are capable of being caring, sensitive and generous, but only when they are open. Unfortunately, there are times when we suffer hearts that are closed up or walled off.

The inner stoppage that is timtum ha'lev can have many causes, and one of the most common is when we hold on to emotional states beyond the date when they ought to have expired. Obviously, some hurts are great and do not yield easily to being released. Sometimes, conditions need to be met, like the offender apologizing or making restitution. Even the liturgy for Yom Kippur allows that certain kinds of issues ought to be pursued. But as for the others, our job is to let go and forgive.

Why does the tradition command us to let go and provide rituals and liturgy to help us do that? The simple answer is that we need to be commanded and then we need the support because letting go is so hard for us to do. The deeper answer is that Judaism is a compassionate tradition that recognizes that no matter how justified, when we hold onto resentments and sorrows, we ourselves suffer. The blockage of the heart that is timtum ha'lev damages our own spiritual self.

The key to releasing your heart in the present from bondage to events and feelings of the past is to accept down to the fibers of your being that you created neither the world nor its ways. You are neither the writer of the script nor the director of the action. You are an actor with agency, but at a certain point, your task is to accept in your heart that everything is as it should be. If it were supposed to work out differently, it would have. Actively accepting things as they are releases and cleanses the heart. In so doing, the hurt and resentment you are carrying around will give way to equanimity and peace of mind and you will earn and enjoy a share of the peace that you seek.

-Adapted from Alan Morinis, Dean of The Mussar Institute

New TI Website Launches

Barry S. Horowitz, MD

It has been over three years since we reinstated the Koleynu in a brand new printed format. I believe we have exceeded our goals of disseminating important information to current members as well as making prospective members aware of the scope of activities occurring at the temple. The content has been vibrant and interesting with articles from the clergy and leadership, Simchas, a calendar, recent event highlights and pictures, gift recognition and more.

As the digital age has expanded, we have expanded our social media presence; as well.

I am pleased to inform you that a new website has been launched (www.temple-israel.com). In addition to being in a brand new format that is easier to navigate and more engaging, numerous features have been added so that congregants and potential members are able to learn about and participate in Temple Israel activities and functions. Along with the new website, our Facebook page is being actively managed.

Carol Anne Albee, a media professional, who has been overseeing the streaming of services and editing the Koleynu, developed and will maintain our new website along with the Facebook page. She will also continue to be our photographer at Temple events to be archived in print and online. Carol Anne's expertise and experience has truly allowed us to further enhance our ability to communicate with our members and the community.

You can support all of our varying media efforts by donating to the "Media Mavens" fund as well as advertising in the Koleynu and on the website. Please contact Jennifer in the Temple Office for more information. We also welcome your feedback so that we may continue to enhance the website and our other media efforts.

Finally, I want to thank all of the congregants and staff who helped make the new website a reality: Charlie Eaton; Pam Weiner; Esther Perman, our co-presidents, Elaine Feldmesser and Judy Shuster, Jennifer and Rabbi Olshein.

Membership Committee News

Amy Jonas

I am excited to report that Carol Safran is now co-chairing the Membership Committee along with me. Carol brings years of experience both as a professional leader and a lay volunteer with many Jewish organizations. I want to personally thank Rikki Bagatell for serving as my co-chair these past few years and for all that she has done particularly in the area of younger families.

Over the summer, a small steering committee consisting of Barry Horowitz, Esther Perman, Ellie Shiffman, Mark Simkowitz, Carol and I have been meeting to develop a plan to further expand our membership. We've compiled a list of prospects to be contacted to receive information about the High Holy Day services at TI and other temple happenings. The names on the list are the result of looking over who has expressed interest in the Temple by purchasing High Holy Day tickets in past years, coming to Shabbat services, attending classes or participating in other Temple events. Among the things we want these people to know is that by joining the Temple prior to February 1, 2019, any money they pay to attend High Holy Day services in 2018, will be applied to reduce their 2019 Annual Commitment. In effect, giving them double the High Holy Day membership benefit.

Using a combination of both traditional mail and e-mail we will try to reach as many people as possible. Ideally, we'll be able to also make calls to those who purchase tickets for this year and tell them that we are looking forward to welcoming them at services. Our hope is to be able to keep this heightened level of contact throughout the year.

Temple Israel has so much to offer. Help us spread the word. Please invite your friends, neighbors, acquaintances and anyone else you think would enjoy experiencing any aspect of our Temple Israel life and family. If you have any names you think should be added to our list to contact, please call the Temple Office (561) 833-8421 or e-mail Jennifer@temple-israel.com. You can also contact either of the Membership Co-Chairs. Carol Safran at (561) 704-2337, nsafeck2269@gmail.com or Amy Jonas at (561) 714-9000, amjfla@aol.com. E-mail is preferred.

Temple Israel's Greeting Corps

During the winter of 2017, Temple Israel's Greeting Corps was launched as a welcoming group with the goal of enhancing the TI experience for our congregants and guests alike. On Friday nights, members of the Greeting Corps have been on hand greeting people as they enter the Temple, assisting with name tags, making introductions and answering questions about the synagogue. Everyone enjoys seeing a friendly face and our greeters are easy to spot by the colorful Greeting Corps button or greeter ribbon that they are wearing. Many of our newer members have said that the warm and inviting atmosphere of TI is what attracted them to join.

Being a part of the Greeting Corps is an easy way for you to get more out of your Temple experience. It's a wonderful opportunity for you to make new friends and help the Temple be the kind of "home" we all want - a place where everyone, congregants and guests alike, are warmly greeted and made to feel special. Regardless of how much or little time you have, or whether you are comfortable being a "greeter" or prefer to be a behind the scenes helper, your involvement will help insure the success of TI's Greeting Program.

Anyone interested in joining our Greeting Corps should contact either Mark Simkowitz mgoose54@aol.com, Carol Safran nsafeck2269@gmail.com or Amy Jonas amjfla@aol.com.

B'Nai Mitzvah Spotlight - Zachary Miller

Zachary Miller will be called to the Torah on Saturday, August 18 at Temple Israel in West Palm Beach. Zach attends the Arthur I. Meyer Preparatory School in Palm Beach Gardens and enjoys playing baseball. He is a New York Yankees fan, loves reading, creative writing, video games, spending time with his pets and listening to music. After learning about Florida's foster system through his mom, Jennifer, who works for the Foster Children's Project of Legal Aid of the Palm Beaches, Zach discovered that many children in the foster system often do not have the basic items such as toiletries when they move from one foster home to another. Zach has chosen to provide comfort bags for his mitzvah project. Each bag contains toiletries, stuffed animals, coloring books, crayons and a blanket, giving each child something of their very own to take with them as they transition to a new place. Zach has raised more than $1,400.00 and is on his way to completing his 72nd comfort bag. If you are interested in helping Zach reach his goal, you may contact his mom, Jennifer at cregermiller@comcast.net.

Community Mission to Israel

By EUNICE BAROS

When I first went to Israel in 2004 with Rabbi Howard and Eileen Shapiro, the streets and most sights were empty; armed soldiers accompanied us on many outings. This June, when my husband Jim and I returned to Israel with 100 others on a mission organized through the Jewish Federation of Palm Beach County, the country was alive with tourists from around the world. The sights, such as Yad Vashem, the Western Wall/Old City in Jerusalem and the Yitzak Rabin Center, were crowded and voices of adults, school children and music filled the air.

Many Temple members, including Joanne and Howard Green, Barbara Nurenberg, Carole and Paul Klein, Keith Myers and Pamela Poppo and Rabbi Cookie Lea Olshein, participated in the four separate tracks offered on the mission: Technology and security; Explore Israel for families or for adults; and the track I chose, Arts, Culture and Culinary. Each group had its own daily itinerary, however, we gathered together for breakfasts and dinners.

In Tel Aviv, we swam in the Mediterranean Sea, wandered in the Old Jaffa souk/outdoor market and enjoyed freshly-squeezed pomegranate and apple juice, dates, watermelon and freshly made baked goods.

In the mystical city of Tzfat we heard musicians play klezmer music on a rooftop before visiting an ancient synagogue. Jim and I and about 30 others joined in a service project with our Federation “sister” cities (Tzfat, Rosh Pinna & Hatzor) to package and distribute fresh fruits and vegetables to Israel’s poor (www.Yadezra.net). Others on our mission renovated an old bomb shelter, gardened or read to children.

In Jerusalem, we were on the go every minute. We celebrated Shabbat in the Old City on the Southern steps with our mission clergy, Rabbi Olshein and Cantor Alicia Stillman of Temple Judea, before walking to the Western Wall to place our prayers and notes in the crevices.

We honored the six million Jews who died in the Holocaust with a private and moving Yizkor service after touring the exhibits with a well-educated guide. Howard Green, the son of survivors, helped place a wreath in the hall in memory of all those who perished. It was truly moving and heartfelt.

Before leaving Jerusalem, I visited the beautiful stone and glass Israeli Supreme Court building and watched my colleagues in the field of law make vigorous arguments to three judges while Jim and others journeyed to Masada and the Dead Sea. During our last dinner at the Israel Museum, we were treated to the amazing musical sounds of Shalva, a band of dedicated young Israelis with disabilities who make the most heavenly music. (Check out their performances on YouTube.)

The weeklong trip was inspirational, thanks to the diligent efforts of Ronit Chia and Josephine Gon of the Jewish Federation Community Programming division and Michael Hoffman, Federation’s president and CEO.

I highly recommend traveling with the Jewish Federation in the future. You cannot be disappointed. I can’t wait to return.
