Kraft Family Cultural Endowment Luncheon with Rita Katz

Wednesday, March 2
11:30 am

Author of Terrorist Hunter: The Extraordinary Story of a Woman Who Went Underground to Infiltrate Radical Islamist Groups in America, Katz was born in southern Iraq in 1963 to a well-to-do Jewish family. After Saddam Hussein seized power, her father was arrested on charges of spying and then executed in a public hanging. Thus began a story that has led Rita to a life of an undercover investigator exposing links of American Islamic groups to foreign terrorist groups.

Join us for what promises to be an important conversation.

Scholar-in-Residence Weekend

Eunice Baros and Aileen Josephs | Co-Chairs

Please join us for a special Scholar-In-Residence weekend, March 4-5, to contribute to and support the University of Florida Library for Judaica Collections.

Dr. Rebecca Jefferson, Head, Isser and Rae Price Library of Judaica, Department of Special and Area Studies Collections, George A. Smathers Libraries, will address the congregation during services at 7:30 p.m. on Shabbat, March 4 to explain about the collection.

A complimentary dinner is scheduled for Saturday, March 5, at 7:00 pm in the Carter Ballroom at Temple, followed by a program at 8:00 pm, where your donations of Judaica, representing the Southern United States, Caribbean, Latin America, and Mexico will gladly be accepted.

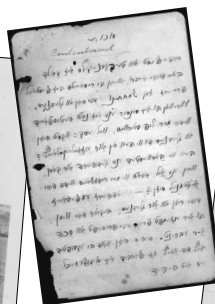

This Judaica can include letters, commendations, photographs, books, as well as other original items for the special UF Judaica collection. Come to the Judaica Antiques "road show" and explain your donation to the congregation. Please join us for a stimulating and exciting weekend.

Ensuring That Jewish Life Never Truly Dies...While Increasing Our Joy

Holocaust scholars and educators around the world will soon be experiencing what they knew would happen: the last witnesses are beginning to die.

Located in Poland, Treblinka was an extermination camp, meaning that it was built for no purpose other than mass murder. Between 700,000 and 900,000 Jews are estimated to have died there.

As we see the last witnesses begin to die, it becomes more important than ever to study and learn so we do not forget and, to ensure that we here at Temple Israel never forget, we have again invited Arthur Berger from the US Holocaust Memorial Museum to speak on Friday, March 18, at services (he was very well-received last year).

Additionally, following Mr. Berger's presentation, we will debut a special Holocaust art exhibition that night from our very own Mark Cohen. This exhibition will focus on the Plaszow camp commandant, Amon Goeth, and how ordinary people can create their own realities amidst horror. This exhibition has never been staged before, so please invite your friends to join us for this thought-provoking premiere.

On another note, I do hope you will take advantage of securing "your place in history" by considering donating your family's Jewish documents/artifacts to the University of Florida Judaic Library. This library, led by our Scholar-in-Residence, Dr. Rebecca Jefferson, seeks to become the nation's largest repository of documentation related to southern, Latin American, and Caribbean Jewish communities.

Dr. Jefferson will share some of the unique items found in the UF Judaic Library with Temple Israel on Friday night, March 4, and then we will come back together on Saturday night at 7:00 pm for a complimentary dinner before our "Judaic Antiques Roadshow"-style event, where we invite you to bring your items to be examined and discussed...and perhaps you will make a contribution to these important archives?

Finally, I'd like to remind you that we will observe Purim on Friday, March 25, which is during the second month of Adar (the holiday itself falls on the night of March 23, but we will observe it during our Friday worship).

As you probably know, we have leap months added into our calendar every seven of 19 years to ensure that our holidays fall in the correct agricultural seasons. There are some scholars who teach that the requirement that we increase our joy in the month of Adar only applies to the second month when Purim is celebrated (since there were no miracles that occurred in the first month of Adar). I prefer to think that we should be attempting to increase our joy all throughout the year, not just during the month of Adar...which leads me to ask: What steps are you taking to actively improve your level of happiness? What new activities have you recently undertaken to bring you pleasure? What have you stopped doing because it doesn't make you happy? And, perhaps most important of all, with whom are you spending your time? Do they bring you joy?

Let me know...I'm curious to hear...and perhaps I'll include your answers in our service where we celebrate Purim!

As you may have noticed, I conclude each month by saying that my door is always open...and my prayer for you this month is that you find new ways to be intentional about increasing your joy.

Kayn y'hi ratzon (may it be God's will).

From the President

Michael Jonas

Welcoming the Stranger

I had written a different article for this month's Koleynu but then, on Shabbat, February 5, we welcomed a stranger into our Temple home. During services, we were introduced to Wajahat Ali, an American Muslim, attorney, playwright, author, and consultant to the United States Department of State and one of Rabbi Emeritus Howard Shapiro's "The Next Person I Want You To Meet." Mr. Ali addressed our President's Circle during a reception before services, sat on our bimah during services in front of a full sanctuary, including congregants, guests, visitors and some of Mr. Ali's family. After services, Mr. Ali spoke to us at length during our Oneg Shabbat.

Many congregations would not have held a private reception for Mr. Ali, but we did. Most congregations would probably have not have been willing to allow Mr. Ali to sit on their bimah during services, but we did. Other congregations may not have allowed a Muslim to speak to its congregation, but we did. We are not like other congregations. We are Temple Israel, a Reform congregation which rose to the highest levels of Judaism on that Friday night by "welcoming the stranger."

The mitzvah of welcoming the stranger is described in Exodus 22:20-23 - You shall not wrong a stranger or oppress him, for you were strangers in the land of Egypt; Exodus 23:9 - You shall not oppress a stranger, for you know the feelings of the stranger, having yourselves been strangers in the land of Egypt; and Deuteronomy 10:19 - So you are to love the sojourner, for sojourners were you in the land of Egypt. The Talmud even states that: the welcoming of guests takes precedence over welcoming the divine presence -- the Shechinah (Shabbat 127a). Shabbat is when we welcome the "divine presence" and on this Shabbat, we did more - we welcomed the stranger.

As you probably know, this is not the first time that Temple Israel has welcomed the stranger. We have and continue to welcome a church, Unity of the Palm Beaches, to our campus. Yes, there is a financial arrangement, but their congregants frequently make it a point to tell us that they are happy to be here and that they feel very welcomed at our temple. And yes, there was a financial arrangement with Wajahat Ali as a speaker, but he extended his discussion far beyond what we anticipated because we were "a great audience" and he felt welcomed at our synagogue. On this occasion, Temple Israel performed a mitzvah: we not only welcomed our congregants, guests and visitors to our Sanctuary and our David and Pauline Carter Ballroom, we also welcomed the stranger.

Youth Group News

Lily Tysinger | Youth Group Advisor
Lily@temple-israel.com

Our Itty Bitty TIWPTY and Chaverim, elementary aged youth group, will be celebrating Purim on March 6. The program, "Feeding Ourselves and Feeding Others," will include Hamantashen baking and rice rebagging for the benefit of the West Palm Beach Food Pantry. Please tell any elementary students you know that they are welcome to join us ($5, includes lunch).

Our Senior Youth Group will have the opportunity to attend Spring Kallah and the Liz Leadership Training Institute. We will also be planning our TIWPTY dinner for an upcoming service so keep an eye out for that information.

Social Action Committee Report

Roslyn Leopold | Chair

Thank you to Pam Weiner for all her efforts in spearheading our project to help refugees. Please read below to see how you can help. Any assistance is appreciated!!

I am planning a Social Action Committee meeting for March 2 at 7:00 pm so please email me at RRLeopold@aol.com or call me at (561) 626-4056 if you are interested in being on the Committee. Everyone is welcome!!! If you can't attend the meeting but have ideas regarding social action, please let me know.

Weren't we all immigrants?

We at Temple Israel are pursuing a community service project helping refugees moving to West Palm Beach. Think back to how our parents, grandparents, or great-grandparents must have felt arriving on the shores of America after having made the long journey...and then read below regarding the many ways (some very small) that you can help these new Americans feel at home here in the Palm Beaches. Because we were strangers in the land of Egypt...and now we are free.

After our initial meeting with Church World Service (CWS), it is apparent that we can best serve by creating three teams or areas of focus, each with a different level of commitment over time. Here is a basic outline of the ways Temple Israel can help:

Option 1: Furnish a Home

Temple Israel will be spearheading the collection of household items so that when the refugee family we "adopt" arrives, it will be as comfortable as possible. We will need to collect beds, dressers, a couch, lamps, bedding, towels, cutlery, dishes, pots and pans, waste baskets, mop/broom/cleaning supplies, etc. We will provide a link to an online "registry" so we don't duplicate our efforts, and can arrange for assistance with transporting any large donations (i.e., furniture) to bring them to CWS' storage area. The actual setting up on an apartment typically takes place on a weekday between 10am and 4pm, but collecting items can be done at your leisure.

Option 2: Welcome and Cultural Orientation

This level of involvement requires a police clearance (which costs about $5), and which can be obtained at the Sheriff's Office on Gun Club Road or through your local police department. Volunteers on this team would visit the family at their new home to welcome them and answer any questions. In addition, we would like volunteers in this group to help orient the refugee family by visiting a supermarket or bank with them and teaching how to maneuver there; discussing how to dress for a job interview would be appropriate; transportation to medical appointments would be a tremendous help, as would assistance with educational issues. TI members committing to this option would check in once a month with the family.

Option 3: Special Projects

Our congregation, school, Youth Group, Sisterhood, Brotherhood, B'nai Mitzvah may wish to consider one-time involvement with CWS in one of the following ways:

- Collecting/creating hygiene kits or cleaning buckets for newly arrived families
- Sponsoring or volunteering at one of CWS' events which include World Refugee Day in June, back to school pizza party in July, Thanksgiving celebration in November, the "Restoring Dignity" Charity Event in December, and holiday toy drive in December
- Raise funds for local programs
- Assist with job development: Help one refugee find full-time employment in our community

Whatever you choose to do, we appreciate your efforts!

Please note that CWS would like us to track our time regardless of our chosen activities (we will provide you a Volunteer Tracking Sheet to do this).

Thank you for your patience and welcome to this opportunity to serve! Once we have a few committed individuals (especially for Option 2 above, which will require paperwork which we will provide), we will gear up to assist our partner refugee family.

B'shalom (in peace),

Pam Wiener, Refugee Assistance Project Volunteer Coordinator

PLEASE HELP OUR OFFICE HELP YOU!

Our members make generous donations to Temple Israel and often ask the Temple to allocate them to two or more purposes. Not all of our accounts are held at the same bank, and it would be a great help if donations going to different banks were written on different checks (this does not pertain to credit card donations).

Payments for the following can all be on one check and will be allocated according to your instructions:

General Donations	Fundraising Events	High Holy Day Appeal
Yarzheits	Koleynu Ads	Class Payments
Annual Commitments	Ad Journal Ads	Religious School

Payments made to any "fund" (i.e. Social Action, Leadership Development, Youth Group, etc.), can all be on another check and will be allocated according to your instructions. All funds are listed each month in the Koleynu (see above).

President's Circle Update

Nancy and Barry Horowitz | Chairs

Our first President's Circle event of the year was a smashing success. Wajahat Ali, who is a Muslim playwright, talk show host, and former U.S. State Department consultant, was Rabbi Shapiro's "next person that he wants you to meet" on Friday, February 5. Prior to services, there was a private reception for President's Circle members in the Media Center. Mr. Ali entertained us with interesting anecdotes from his life and members had the opportunity to interact with him.

By now, you have received information in the mail about membership opportunities for the President's Circle for 2016. Contributing significantly to the operating expenses of the synagogue, President's Circle dues accounts for over 20% of the yearly revenues in our budget and roughly 45% of the total dues revenues. We would therefore like to continue to grow President's Circle membership and fill in the many blank spaces on our beautiful new plaque in the lobby of the social hall. There is also plenty of room for current members to increase their level of support!

We look forward to receiving your commitment by the end of March so that your name can appear on the beautiful new President's Circle plaque in the lobby of the social hall in 2016. You may pay for your membership later on in the year if you desire. Please contact us or Jennifer in the office if you have any questions.

Be Happy; Bake Cookies; Show Others You Care; It's Adar!

Long before Bobby McFerrin told us "don't worry; be happy..." the Mishnah taught us to "Be Happy; it's (the Hebrew month of) Adar!!"

Young and old are still encouraged to plan fun costumes and to be ready to make noise as together we recall the story of the Book of Esther, drowning out the name of the wicked prime minister Haman. We are to give gifts of food to friends and make sure we give zedakah.

Our ancestors realized long ago that sometimes we need to be shaken out of our routines and encouraged to have some fun. The customs of Purim offer us such a joyous pause even as they remind us that it is not enough to enjoy ourselves; we must reach out and engage others, as well, sharing the joy with friends and even those we do not know. It is the essence of community building to come together for joy, not crisis.

Following the Mishnah's advice to be happy, when my children still lived at home, the end of Tu B'Shevat (our celebration of the New Year of the Trees) was a signal that Purim baking season needed to begin. Sated with fruits and nuts, paper and pencils in hand, we began compiling our shalach manot list — the list of those to whom we planned to deliver gifts of sweet foods on Purim. Along with the list of names, we developed a second list as we dreamed up new fillings for the middle of our hamantashen cookies. Long before Google and Pinterest we quickly moved beyond traditional poppy seed and prune options to peanut butter and chocolate swirled together and raspberry jelly with chocolate chips. Sometimes we even made a chocolate cheesecake-like filling. A mixture of nuts and chocolate bits chopped fine in the food processor are still perennial favorites.

I made dough a few times each week; then, as we had time, we'd shape and bake a few dozen — taste testing as we went along. Between baking sessions the kids would be off planning costumes and I'd be hunting for bargains to add to the Purim gift baskets — chocolates (do you sense a theme here), nuts, raisins, oranges, and granola bars all found their way into my shopping cart. We laughed, sang and made merry as we prepared for the holiday. By the time Purim came, dozens of homemade paper-plate baskets or brown paper bags were ready to be decorated and delivered.

Haven't started preparing for Purim yet? Not to worry. Fortunately, this is a Jewish leap year, which means we have an entire extra month in our calendar. Even though Tu B'Shevat fell in January, Purim does not come until March 24.

So, what are you waiting for? Join me in getting out your baking sheets, and starting to make your lists — lists of baking supplies, of costume ideas, and most of all, lists of those to whom you want to reach out and invite to join you in "Being Happy for it's Adar!"

Then, join us in the sanctuary on Friday, March 25 where we will tell the Purim story and make merry.

FYI – Watch our Facebook page where I'll be posting some recipes and ideas.

JWF/TI Luncheon features Rabba Sara Hurwitz

Join Temple Israel as we host the Jewish Women's Foundation and Rabba Sara Hurwitz as our guests on Wednesday, March 30, 12:00 n - 1:15 pm. $18 includes lunch.

Yeshivat Maharat was founded in September 2009 by Rabbi Avi Weiss and Rabba Sara Hurwitz, who received her ordination earlier that year. In establishing Yeshivat Maharat, they sought to provide a path so that women could achieve positions of leadership within the Orthodox community on par with the rabbi in those communities.

Yeshivat Maharat offers women the opportunity to become ordained as clergy within the bounds of halakha so that they can serve their communities as spiritual leaders. Last year, Yeshivat Maharat received a two-year grant from the Jewish Women's Foundation to fund their groundbreaking work.

Join us for lunch and discussion with Rabba Hurwitz to hear more about the challenges and successes of ordaining Orthodox women clergy. RSVP to the Temple Israel office at (561) 833-8421 before March 23.

TI Learns

Charlie Eaton | Coordinator

TI Reads is open to men and women, and you don't have to be a TI member to join in. On Thursday, March 3 at 7:00 pm, TI Reads will delve into The Nightingale by Kristin Hannah — "a heartbreakingly beautiful novel that celebrates the resilience of the human spirit." Don't miss it!

Torah ON the Table, originally scheduled for March 10, is now scheduled for March 24.

Temple Israel is co-sponsoring Mental Health First Aid with Temple Beth El on Sunday, March 27, 9:00 am - 5:00 pm. Certificate will be given to all those who complete the course. RSVP is necessary to Cindy at Jewish Family Services (561) 684-1991.

If you haven't joined the Weekly Torah Study (9:30-10:30 Saturday mornings), now is the time (we're just getting to the best part!).

What's good for you? We'd love your feedback! Please take a minute to fill out the two-question survey at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/2016TILEARNS>. Sneak preview: join the TI Adult Education Task Force and review the survey data at the inaugural task force meeting on April 12, 6:00 - 7:00 pm.

Bette Gilbert to be Temple Israel's honoree at Israel Bonds Unity for Israel Reception

Six Palm Beach area synagogues will join together at Temple Israel on Wednesday, March 16, for a Unity for Israel reception. A member from each of the participating synagogues (New Synagogue of Palm Beach, Palm Beach Synagogue, Temple Beth El, Temple Beth Kodesh, Temple Beth Tikvah, and Temple Israel) will be honored during the evening, with longtime TI member and Jewish community leader Bette Gilbert representing Temple Israel.

Guest speaker for the event is Danny Ayalon, Israel's former Ambassador to the United States and Deputy Foreign Minister.

There will also be a special award presentation to Rudy Beserra, Senior Vice President Latin Affairs, The Coca-Cola Company, in recognition of the company's longstanding defiance of the blacklisting of Israel.

For more information and to RSVP, contact the Israel Bonds office at (561) 939-1360 or palmbeach@israelbonds.com.
