From the President

Michael Jonas

In a recent conversation with a member of our Executive Committee, I learned that we have succeeded with what we tried to create: entering Temple Israel creates a separation from the rest of the world and a period of time to “decompress” from the week. This is also what many of our congregants seek and this is what many of our congregants find at our synagogue.

We have created a beginning to this process of separation and decompressing on Shabbat through our Proneg prior to services. At our Proneg, we greet our congregants and visitors and everyone has an opportunity to have something to eat and drink and to meet or catch up with each other.

Some of the air is let out of the inflated balloon that is our week and we are then ready for our service.

We have a prayer in the beginning of our Shabbat service (Mishkan T'filah p.15):

WE ENTER THIS SANCTUARY...

which states what our Executive Committee member has found:

Weariness, doubt, the flaws within our human hearts,
The harshness of the week – let these drop away at the door.
In the brightness of Shabbat, let peace settle upon us as we lift our hearts in prayer.

In the middle of our service we pray that God will spur us to pursue Tikkun Olam:

DISTURB US, Adonai...

From “the quietude which arises from a shunning of the horror, the defeat, the bitterness and the poverty, physical and spiritual, of humans”.

Make us know that the border of the sanctuary is not the border of living ... and its walls ... are not shelters from the winds of truth, justice and reality (at p. 55).

Towards the end of our service we read:

GIVE US A PLACE TO REST...

which is a prayer for God to:

“Spread over us His shelter of peace” (at p. 61).

Our Temple may be a shelter of peace, but it is not a shelter “from the winds of truth, justice and reality” (at p. 55). Although we must be vigilant to guard against injustice, our synagogue is a place to feel differently from what we are bombarded with during the week. We come seeking peace, but, like we are directed to on Shabbat, we are not to spend our days in “torpor and slumber”; we are to be “stirred and spurred to action” (at p. 55).

So, at our synagogue we enter a different space and time but remain connected to our Temple community and our calling to engage in actions that will make our world a better place.

Come to Temple Israel and feel a sense of community, purpose and peace. Come to our services for moments of inspiration, transformation and celebration.

From the Rabbi

Rabbi Cookie Lea Olshein

The Stranger Blessing Us ...

In the old S'lichot (the holiday leading into the High Holy Days) prayer book, the opening passage talked about the leaves turning now that fall was arriving – living in the south, I laughed each time I read this, thinking about how different my autumn experience was. However, it was an important moment each year, in that it was a trigger to remind me about the change of seasons, even if I could not see any physical difference in my environment.

Here in south Florida, our biggest reminder of the change of seasons is the welcoming back of our part-year residents ... and so we say to our part-year residents, welcome (back) home, whether you are here in the Palm Beaches only for a couple of months or for “six months and a day.” We believe you have much to contribute to our sacred community and invite your full participation, no matter how long you plan to be here this season. With that, please call the Office to set up a time to get together so we can get to know you better – coffee, tea, lunch, whatever is most convenient for you! (This offer also applies to our year-round residents!)

During “season,” we also find an upswing in visitors to our congregation, which allows us to practice the mitzvah of hachansat orchim (welcoming the stranger). Remember how you felt the first time you walked into a synagogue (even this synagogue)? It was probably a little overwhelming unless you have an invitation from someone who was already a member. Please do reach out to the folks with the “blue mugs” whenever they are here (there is almost nothing worse for a Rabbi to hear than a visitor held a blue mug and still no one said hello).

We are fortunate that we are one of the few congregations actually growing over the past 5 years, and have been told that one of the reasons people join is because they were warmly welcomed their first visit. But saying hello is not enough. We then invite our guests and new members to participate in the many great things happening at Temple Israel and in our community. These new people are reaching out to their Jewish heritage and our beautiful traditions and, by welcoming them to our fold, we can invite them to help strengthen our Jewish community and build on all the great things happening here at Temple Israel.

Speaking of great things, we are excited that our first “Shabbat on Broadway” will take place on Friday, 11/3, at 6:30pm. The themes of our Shabbat prayers will be represented by songs from Broadway’s best known musicals in addition to some of our prayers being sung to their melodies. (As a preview, if you join us, you might hear something from “A Chorus Line” and “Fiddler on the Roof,” as well as “West Side Story,” “Man of La Mancha,” and even “Hamilton”!) Because of its outreach nature, this would be a great time to invite your friends to join you at Temple Israel ... as always, all are welcome.

Lastly, as we prepare to celebrate the secular holiday of Thanksgiving, please consider incorporating Jewish values into your celebration by inviting those who might not have a place to celebrate, making a food or gift card donation to our local Food Pantry or AJFCS, or perhaps sharing your leftovers (or, better yet, cooking something special) with the hungry the day after Thanksgiving (on Thanksgiving Day, there are many places someone can get a good meal, however, the need still exists the day after, and the day after that).

Even for those of us who might struggle, let us practice the Jewish value of giving thanks daily and count our many blessings this year. We each have been given so much, and we each have so much to give.

As I always say, my door is always open ... please let me know how I can assist you on your Jewish journey.

The Mussar Journey

Rabbi Howard Shapiro

Starting on Tuesday evening, November 7th, Dr. Barry Horowitz and I will begin a shared passage of introspection and learning using the principles of the 1,000 year old spiritual tradition we call Mussar in our tradition. This is an invitation and a small taste of what the journey/passage will look and feel like.

The word Mussar means “instruction” but that definition does not encompass what the experience is like. Mussar in the world of Jewish Spirituality is about looking inward and learning from yourself what “work” your “soul” is leading you to do so that you may become the best you can be. Or in traditional God language: Mussar asks you to listen to what God is teaching you and you listen by observing how you interact with what we call Middot or “soul traits”.

So there are many soul traits”. Humility is a soul trait; patience is a soul trait and so are faith, anger, trust, silence and I could go on. How do you learn from them? How patient are you at a red light? Did the car in front of you react to its turning green fast enough for you? What does Mussar say about your reaction? Is there a Jewish text or teaching that can be brought to bear on the situation and is there a Mussar practice that can help us appreciate the blessings and challenges we live with?

The “journey” is interactive. There is meditation; there is learning; there is sharing; there is a time to challenge and a time to accept; there is a time to know and a time to live in our unknowing.

If you are brand new to Mussar – you are welcome. If you are a Mussar veteran – come on back and refresh your practice. For everyone, there are wonderful resources to bring you up to speed on the Mussar Institute website. www.mussarinstitute.org

Looking forward to seeing you in November and beginning to walk the Mussar path with you.

President's Circle Update

Nancy and Barry Horowitz | Chairs

Preparations are in full swing the Holiday Boat Parade Party at the home of Alan and Judy Shuster on Saturday, December 2nd at 6:30 p.m. Cocktails, big bites and decadent desserts will be served. Current President's Circles members should RSVP if they have not already done so.

We would like to invite other congregants who are interested in joining to become members. As a reminder, President's Circle dues are not in addition to your regular Temple dues, but encompasses them. In addition, you do not need to pay immediately, although you can take advantage of the tax deduction for 2017 if you do so. Also, new members who commit now for 2018 will also be invited to the Holiday Boat Parade Party. That is reason enough to make the commitment!

Please contact us or Jennifer at the Temple Office for any further information.

TI READS

Philip Roth is often mentioned as the single most important author of the past 25 years.

Join us on Thursday, Nov. 16, as the Temple Israel Book Club explores this fascinating writer.

Each attendee will be asked to read and comment on one of Roth's books. Find your favorite passage and research how reviewers at the time reacted to its publication.

Email Ellen Ehrenkranz at eehren@yahoo.com for more information and to let her know which book you have chosen. Meeting location and time to be determined. See www.temple-israel.com for a complete list of Philip Roth books.

celebrating
50
YEARS

WOW!!! Half a century...

and for much of that time Rabbi Howard Shapiro has been at Temple Israel, as our Rabbi and Spiritual Leader and now, as our Rabbi Emeritus. He's been a vibrant part of our Temple's heritage and continues to be actively involved in shaping our Jewish community. What an amazing man ... what an amazing milestone ... 50 years of service.

A huge thanks goes to Rabbi Cookie Lea Olshein for bringing this milestone to our attention and for her central role in our celebration planning. The evening is taking shape. There will be a special Shabbat Service with musical guest, Noah Aronson, an Oneg provided by our Sisterhood and Brotherhood, followed by a delicious Celebration Dinner. That evening we will show how much we appreciate Rabbi Shapiro's spectacular achievement of 50 years and all he has done to strengthen our Temple and the community.

You may or may not know it, but Rabbi Shapiro is the one who encouraged the acquisition of much of our Temple's artwork and Judaica. This is just one of the ways in which he shaped our institution into the entity it is today. You can look around most anywhere and see his impact. Have you ever admired our stained glass windows during a service? Rabbi Shapiro worked with a lay committee and a glass artist to bring them to fruition. Do you know the story they tell? Do you know we have a Sephardic Torah? That was Rabbi Shapiro's influence again. And there is more ... much more.

Before retiring, Rabbi Shapiro had hoped to have Temple publish a book of the beautiful art we have surrounding us. It didn't happen then, so now, on this special occasion, we are publishing a book of Temple Israel's Treasures. It will be dedicated to Rabbi Shapiro in honor of the 50th Anniversary of his ordination. It will reside permanently in our sanctuary pews, next to our prayer books. It will be shared with all who come through our doors. It will contain pictures and information about our treasures and also, the names of those who made the book possible. During the service on January 19, 2018, our "Book of Treasures" will be unveiled. Everyone has the opportunity to support this fundraising effort and have their name known by generations to come. Look for more information soon.

So, pencil in the date on your calendars & plan to celebrate with us on January 19th... bring your friends and join our List of Well-Wishers (no charge). Call Temple, 833-8421, to say how you would like your name to appear. The List of Well-Wishers will be published in the Koleynu and displayed in other ways as we move forward to our January celebration.

Are You a Veteran? We Would Like to Honor YOU on Friday, November 10th!

Each year, Temple Israel honors the veterans in our midst at the Shabbat closest to Veterans' Day. (We honor those who have served in both the United States and Israeli military.) If you are a member who served (or know a member we should honor), please contact the Office so we can send them a special invitation to participate in our November 10th worship. Thank you for your assistance in identifying those who served!
