Temple Israel is in motion. We are moving forward on many fronts.

Evolution. Evolution in nature can be too slow to notice or seem startlingly fast. One hundred years ago, when six local Jewish families decided to build a temple, it took them considerable time, energy, and resources. The solid foundation they built has required many adaptations through the years, enabling our synagogue to survive and thrive as a pillar of the community. Our congregation, programs, social action, and physical space continue to evolve to meet the increasing needs of our community.

Introspection. The High Holy Days are almost here! Our Holy Days are a time for self-assessment, sincere atonement, and a path to improve how we treat ourselves and others. This year Rabbi Ryan Daniels and Rabbi Carlie Daniels will guide us through a new High Holy Day experience and into our new year. Have you reserved your High Holy Day seats yet? All members need to register and get tickets beforehand. You can make reservations through your online Temple account. You can also go online to register at Temple-Israel.com/hhd2023 – or scan QR code to go to the webpage.

Recognition. Temple Israel's persistence and growth require an ongoing influx of new members - not just new members, but new young members and young families. This depends on our local community's recognition of what Temple Israel offers – now and in the future. Our Membership Committee and Temple administration are currently doing the heavy lifting, and with the guidance of our new Rabbis, plans are underway to expand these efforts with new branding, new personnel, and new platforms. Stay tuned!

Representation. Temple Israel is a family. We are forging our future together. Our Rabbis are working hard to connect with each of our members through small group meetings. Our lay leadership is reaching out to all members by phone. Your voice matters. Please contact our office if you haven't had the opportunity to connect with our clergy and our board.

Finding Meaning, Connection and Relevance in the High Holy Days

The Torah scrolls are dressed in their majestic whites. Apples, honey and round challah are ready to be enjoyed. The synagogue building is abuzz as family, friends and guests file into the pews. Choir, piano and string music lift our spirits to new heights. Our hearts are open to imagine what is possible in 5784.

We invite you to step into the High Holy Days with us. As Rabbi Alan Lew writes, “Every heart needs to crack itself open. Every one of us needs to move from anger to healing, from denial to consciousness, from boredom to renewal. These needs did not arise yesterday. They are among the most ancient of human yearnings, and they are fully expressed in the pageantry and ritual of the Days of Awe, in the great journey we make between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur” (This is Real and You Are Completely Unprepared, p. 9). We are honored to walk this path with you, collectively and as individuals, as we find meaning, connection and relevance in Judaism’s age-old invitation at this season of reflection, repair and renewal.

Meaning

- Our clergy team, staff and lay partners have designed each worship service to be meaningful and accessible, including beautiful music, interpretive readings, inspiring sermons, and traditional prayers to create an experience befitting the Days of Awe.
- This year we will offer two opportunities for interactive text study on Yom Kippur: (1) A 1:00 PM afternoon session with Rabbi Howard Shapiro in the Media Center and (2) A 4:00 PM Afternoon Worship Service will include a conversation led by the clergy on contemporary applications of the Jonah Story.
- New this year: We invite families with young children to our 9:00 AM Family Experience on both Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, a one-hour family program beginning with a half-hour prayer experience with accessible readings, prayers, music and age-appropriate story, followed by apples, round challah and hands-on activities.

Connection

- As is our custom throughout the year at Shabbat, our corps of ushers and greeters will welcome everyone into the building during the High Holy Days and will be present to assist throughout. Everyone is asked to wear a name tag given at check-in so that we can wish each other “Shanah Tovah!” by name, building meaningful connections with others.
- We are grateful to Sisterhood and Brotherhood who are partially sponsoring our annual Break-the-Fast at the end of Yom Kippur, an opportunity for the entire community to gather, eat delicious food, and enjoy the first moments of 5784 together.

Relevance

- In our Yom Kippur Haftarah portion, the prophet Isaiah asks, “Is this the fast I desire?” Meaning, if the age-old sanctuary-rituals of the High Holy Days do not move us to do the important soul-work and repair outside of the synagogue that our tradition compels, then the Holy Days are for naught. Therefore, among our service offerings this year, we are proud to offer a special tikkun olam (“repair of the world”) community conversation at 2:00 PM in the Media Center.
- We know, too, that while prayer and reflection are essential offerings during the High Holy Days, tzedakah (“charitable giving”) is equally important. We invite you to participate in this year’s annual High Holy Day Food Drive which this year will begin on September 15 and end October 1 in order

L'Shana Tovah Um'tukah!

On Friday, September 15, we begin again as we welcome in Shabbat and a new Jewish year, 5784, together at 7:30pm in our Sanctuary and virtually on our Facebook page. Our Adult Choir and students have been rehearsing, as well as those chanting Torah, Haftarah and their appropriate blessings. It's an exciting and bustling time of year amidst all the preparations at the synagogue and at home.

We are invited to return to our hearts and souls as we lovingly review how we have walked with ourselves and others in our lives, community and the world. We embrace opportunities to make amends to ourselves and others and begin again.

T'shuvah, T'filah, Tzedakah that's what we're gonna do

T'shuvah, T'filah, Tzedakah for me and for you

T'shuvah, T'filah, Tzedakah G'mar Chatima Tovah

T'shuvah, T'filah, Tzedakah to those near and far

Thank you, Ellen Allard, for these words that the students and I love singing together – and not just because “it's got a good beat”! I am always humbled by our conversations as we learn/review the song and its meaning(s). Our students are some of my best teachers. T'shuvah – to apologize/make amends, T'filah – to listen/pray/be still, Tzedakah – giving money/time to help others. What do these words mean to and for you?

I am grateful for the times of quiet I'm able to carve out in each day to breathe, be and listen to and for that “still small voice” inside of me. Sometimes it's two minutes, five minutes and truth be told lots of times it's four/five am and I fall back asleep in the midst of my meditating/listening. Other times it's walking on the beach first thing in the morning, listening to the birds singing, our beautiful sunshine, our amazing cloud formations and brilliant blue sky and when my girls, cats Goldi and Kiva, curl up purring away as they enjoy their pets and massages – individually, of course.

Most importantly, I am beyond grateful to welcome in my second High Holy Day Season and year with you, my Temple Israel Family. You are such a blessing to me and our world. May we continue to walk together from strength to strength into 5784 celebrating our centennial birthday and beyond. May 5784 be a good and sweet year and may we and all those we love be written in the Book of Life for good. L'Chaim!

to continue the collecting through Sukkot. All of the food collected will be donated to CROS Ministries Community Food Pantries, and as we have done before, we will again collect money to purchase Publix gift cards for Alpert Jewish Family Service.

We invite you to join us in finding meaning, connection and relevance these High Holy Days, participating in the fullness of this year's offerings. Together we will pray, learn, sing, eat, connect and give back, as we bid 5783 farewell and step forward into 5784 with hope for healing, transformation and the promise of a new tomorrow.

Shanah Tovah, May this New Year be a year of blessing for us all!

Autobiography in Five Short Chapters
by Portia Nelson

I

I walk down the street.
There is a deep hole in the sidewalk.
I fall in.
I am lost... I am helpless.
It isn't my fault.
It takes me forever to find a way out.

II

I walk down the same street.
There is a deep hole in the sidewalk.
I pretend I don't see it.
I fall in again.
I can't believe I am in the same place but,
it isn't my fault.
It still takes a long time to get out.

III

I walk down the same street.
There is a deep hole in the sidewalk.
I see it is there.
I still fall in... it's a habit.
My eyes are open.
I know where I am.
It is my fault.
I get out immediately.

IV

I walk down the same street.
There is a deep hole in the sidewalk.
I walk around it.

V.

I walk down another street.

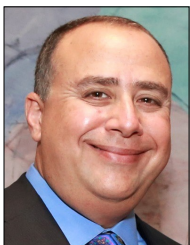

As we come upon a new year, we reflect upon our past to help us move forward. What have we learned, where have we succeeded, what requires tweaking, what new programs can we offer and what are our community's current needs? Too often we do things by rote, claiming "tradition" as a reason. But we can't keep going down the same street, see the same hole and fall into it, and we can't blame others for our lack of vision. The only way to truly move forward is to see where we've come from, where the path has led us and try a different route. Traditional and beloved programs can continue, but adding a twist brings much excitement.

Through the years, we've had many forward-thinking leaders who have paved our paths, visionaries who have rooted us to where we are today: A synagogue that takes care of our congregants and greater community, with understanding, patience and love. A synagogue that provides the religious and cultural teachings and experiences. A synagogue that encourages us to be better individuals with commitment to ourselves, our community and Judaism, and with passion handed down l'dor v'dor, generation to generation.

In my short four years at Temple Israel, I have stood at many intersections with new rabbis and new layleaders who have taken us to great heights. We've had new technology, new staff, new programs, new plans... and we've changed courses to accommodate it all. And, nu, where have these all brought us? To the most amazing place and we're still climbing and moving forward.

"I took the {road} less traveled by, and that has made all the difference" (Robert Frost). Let's travel our Temple Israel road together, discover a new path, skip over the holes, lean into the curves... and explore new adventures this year. I'm so excited to take this ride with you into our new year and our next century.

L'Shanah Tovah (and L'Shana Meah Tovah)!

The Mussar Moment

Barry Horowitz, M.D.

Coming back from a recent trip to Europe, we had a connection in Paris at Charles de Gaulle Airport. For those of you who don't know that airport, it is large and unwieldy to get from terminal to terminal. Our flight into Paris was delayed, leaving us a little under an hour to catch the next flight back to the States. Upon landing, the plane stopped on the tarmac and not at a gate such that we had to take a bus to the terminal and then get to the next flight. My anxiety level soared. How could I retain my equanimity (menuchat ha'nefesh) while navigating this?

In my last Mussar Moment article, I discussed the fact that we really have little control as to what happens in our lives given all of the forces in the universe that are beyond our power. In sorting out what we do and do not have control over, I remarked that it is best to be patient in either case. In this circumstance, I exhorted myself and my wife to run like crazy people through the airport, cutting the passport line and bemoaning the drivers of the buses we had to get on for sticking to their schedules and not leaving so we could make our plane. I made both of us miserable with my un-Mussarlike behavior.

All of our worrying is about what might happen in the future. We can also see that all worrying is really a form of fear. The worry that seizes and freezes our hearts is all about fear over the possibilities that might come along in time. Would we make the flight? What would we do if we did not make it?

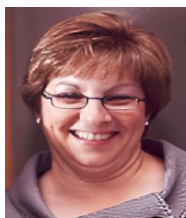

Worry (like all fear) triggers the fight-or-flight response, which, in turn, causes the body's sympathetic nervous system to release stress hormones such as cortisol. These hormones boost blood sugar levels and triglycerides (blood fats) in order to provide the body with the fuel it needs to deal with the threatening situation. But when the threat is all mental, these hormones have no physical outlet—no fight, no flight, only worry—then serious consequences can result, from immune suppression to digestive disorders to heart attack. As well, living under the cloud of worry can bring on mental health issues.

We made it to the gate in time, and in fact it was late boarding, but at what cost? In deciding what we can and cannot control, this becomes a central question to ask ourselves. Would it have been better to more calmly navigate the minefield of the airport and risk having to take a later flight or stay overnight in Paris or behave like a lunatic to bend the situation to the desired outcome? A basic tenet of Mussar is that life is a curriculum and that we constantly face situations that test us in order to allow us to grow towards wholeness (shlemut) and holiness. We face forks in the road (bechira points) where we can fall back on old behaviors or use the opportunity to use what we have learned and practice taking a more elevated approach. It is never easy, but always worthwhile.

Looks Like We Made It!

One of my many favorite Barry Manilow songs. Yup! I'm a Fanilow. Growing up, when he started out on tour, I saw him about 17 times. I have yet to see him in Vegas. He's 80 years old now and still performing. Amazing!

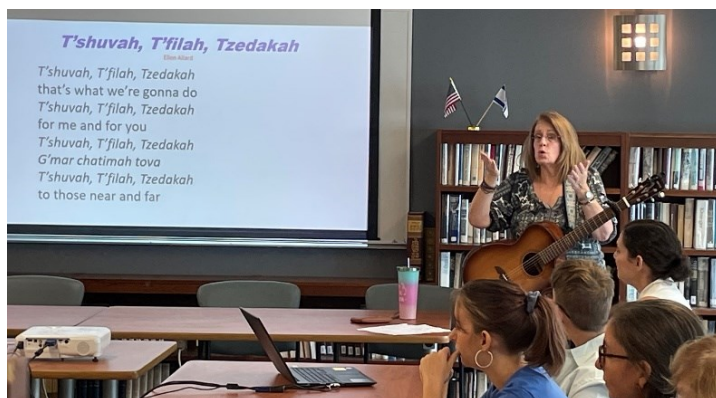

I mention this because we recently started Religious School on Sunday, August 20th. We had 100% retention of our religious school students, many students who had taken a break last year returned, and 2 new families signed up with 2 children each. In addition, 12 teens signed up for our monthly Chat & Chew program with Rabbis Daniels (our newest confirmation class) and 8 teens will be madrichim this year.

Many thanks go to our Brotherhood for sponsoring breakfast for the students and their parents, a wonderful start to our First Day. Cantorial Soloist Suzanne then led us in T'filah and song. Kindergarten through 4th grades went with Miss Maggie to her class, the other grades went with me into the Youth Lounge and the parents met with Rabbi Carlie.

I am so excited for this upcoming year! Thank you to the parents, Rabbis Carlie and Ryan, Cantorial Soloist Suzanne, our Brotherhood, Miss Maggie, Facility Supervisor Earnton and of course the students.

So, Looks Like We Made It!!!

Our First Day of Religious School was packed with excitement as our families were introduced to our programs... and enjoyed a breakfast brought in by our Brotherhood!

Three little words

When you hear the phrase “three little words”, many examples come to mind. “I love you” is probably the top one, maybe the book and movie “Eat, Pray, Love” is on the list. How about the three words in Temple Israel’s brand descriptors: Pray, Connect, Thrive? From management to marketing to corporate identity to almost anything, three little words have become commonplace for building a brand or setting a framework for working toward organizational goals.

The Membership Committee has three little words too: engage, expand, excite. Put these three little words in any order, prioritize them as you wish; that is basically what we do in the Membership Committee...our goals.

In August we continued to engage our membership with another successful after services dinner at Pescatore Ristorante. We finished out the first round of the Rabbi Meet & Greets with four more intimate gatherings in host homes. A special thank you to our gracious congregants who opened up their homes or party rooms for these important get togethers.

We worked on the ShaBaBeQue with Brotherhood. For this event, we brought younger families to Temple, engaged our current membership and created some excitement in the community with expanded social media outreach and new partnerships. All three goals in one event!

After the holidays, we will continue with another round of Rabbis Meet & Greets. We will reach out to the snowbirds, returning full-timers and those whose schedule just didn’t work first time around. If we missed you, please contact the Temple and we will facilitate a time and place. We plan to schedule at least one more “dinner out” and “brunch out” in 2024. The membership committee will hold a full committee meeting on October 10th with a light dinner served. We will work on developing interest groups or possibly the return of lunch & learn gatherings. The calendar is filling up with events. Soon, there will be excitement with Sukkot, Simchat Torah and an event-packed December 8th weekend at Chanukah.

So, if you have three different little words...let us know what we need to do to reach your goals.

With wishes for Happy, Healthy, and Meaningful Holidays

Just a reminder that we will be having Valet Parking during Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. Self-parking may be available along Pine Street and North Flagler Drive. In addition, Pine Street will be a one-way street, going west to east, for a safer traffic flow. Please enter Pine Street only from Dixie Highway. Thanks.

Brotherhood

Our Brotherhood truly outshined themselves at their 10th Annual Brotherhood ShaBaBeQue in August, feeding almost 250 dinner guests with big smiles and kind hearts. Kudos to their hard work and dedication to our Temple and congregation. Just two days later, they were at it again, creating a delicious breakfast for our Religious School families on the first day of school. The Brothers then stayed for a Brotherhood meeting, no doubt discussing upcoming plans including Dinner in the Sukkah on Wednesday, October 4th, featuring Barry Horowitz's Not Your Bubbe's Brisket.

Congregants sometimes ask what the optional $36 Brotherhood or Sisterhood fee is for. While all members are automatically a part of our Brotherhood and Sisterhood, this fee is to become a Supporting Member – enabling these auxiliary arms of Temple Israel to sponsor the ShaBaBeQue, First Day of School Breakfast, Dinner in the Sukkah, Oneg Dessert Receptions, Break-the-Fast and so much more!

We look forward to seeing our sisters at events and encourage you to stay engaged with TI as we celebrate not only our 100th anniversary but the future of Temple Israel.

Our VP Programming Chairs, Carole Klein (caroletk1@gmail.com) and Lori Ackerman (lkack@aol.com) are busy building a calendar with enjoyable events, which include an afternoon at Dramaworks and our annual fashion show. Watch the Koleyenu and your emails for updates.

Join us with the Brotherhood for Break-The-Fast on Monday September 25th following the N'ilah Service. RSVP by September 18th to the temple office at 561-833-8421.

I look forward to seeing you at Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur Services.

Wishing you an easy fast this High Holiday season, good health and inspired love. May we all be inscribed in the book of life.

La'shana Tova to you and yours.

Need A Ride?

Some of our members find it difficult to get to us as they are without a car or hesitate to drive at night. As such, our Temple Administrator Tamekia Graham has contacted Palm Tran Connection and has gathered the following information to assist our members in accessing our services and programs.

- Each person must individually register and book his or her trips
- A doctor's note is required certifying that a need exists – e.g. stating a disability or even a mobility issue (use of walker, cane, wheelchair)
- The cost of one ticket is $3.50 (each way). Ticket books (10 tickets) are available for $35. An aide or companion can accompany the rider for free
- The Palm Tran Connection runs Monday-Friday 5:30am to 9:30pm, Saturday 6am to 9pm, and Sunday 7:45am to 7:30pm
- Scheduling can be done 24 hours before, via phone or online

With Gratitude to David Block

David Block, our accompanist extraordinaire, has decided to move on to other professional opportunities. We sincerely thank David for sharing his incredible talents during his many years of outstanding service to Temple Israel, helping to lift our prayers and move our spirits on Shabbat and holidays. We will miss his beautiful music and presence in our community, and wish him all the best in his future endeavors.

Greetings from The Gingolds

Our TI Family is international! Suzette & Jeffrey Gingold have been members of Temple Israel for 38 years, raising their daughter Arielle at TI through our religious school programs and beyond. They recently moved to Lisbon, Portugal and while they are loving their new home, their love for Temple Israel is obvious as they are retaining their temple membership. Suzette recently sent us these photos and asked that we send their love to their TI Family!

Introducing Jedidiah Maness, TI's New Accompanist

We are thrilled to announce that Jedidiah Maness has accepted the position as our new musical accompanist. Jedidiah has been a part of our TI Family for several years, having been our accompanist in the past and more recently this summer. He is already rehearsing with our choir for the High Holy Days!

Jedidiah started his musical career at the age of nine playing the violin. Three years later, he met renowned jazz pianist Copeland Davis with whom he studied and worked closely for five years, including playing in many of Copeland's concerts. In addition to studying with other highly decorated and international performers, Jedidiah continues to be invited by Artistic Director Nelson Delle-Vigne Fabbri to participate in the International Paris Summer sessions held at the Ecole Normale Music De Paris and in the International Chopin Festival in Mallorca, Spain.

Jedidiah yearns to expand his repertoire and wishes to become a prolific leader in piano pedagogy. As principal of Palm Beach Piano, LLC, his dream came true, fulfilling his passion to teach piano to people of all ages and to further enrich the culture of the Palm Beaches. He has served as an Artist in Residence at Bak Middle School of the Arts, is the lead musician at Mariner Sands Chapel and an accompanist for numerous instrumental and vocal festivals.

Jedidiah and his wife Kyla have two adorable sons - Ezra (1 year) and Abe (2 years). Together they have attended our events and their connection to Temple Israel is strong.

We welcome Jedidiah to our team and look forward to him joining us regularly in prayer on Shabbat and the Holy Days.

THANK YOU TO OUR GREETERS AND VOLUNTEERS FOR SUPPORTING US!

1901 N. FLAGLER DRIVE | WEST PALM BEACH

Jewish Beginnings

Tuesday, October 10, 9:00–10:00am

Weekly on Tuesday, until Dec. 5, 2023

Create memories and connect with other families as we joyously explore Jewish holidays and values. As the group sings, moves, and explores a variety of sensory materials, Miss Kassi, an experienced early childhood educator and mother, will help you artfully create Jewish keepsakes that you'll enjoy together for years to come. There will also be lots of opportunity for conversation about how Judaism can shape your parenting and home. Class will end with a snack and time for connections.

Shalom Everybody

Friday, October 13, 9:00–10:00am

Weekly on Friday, until Dec. 8, 2023

Shalom everybody! Break out your tambourine, get in touch with your inner musician and connect at this engaging music and movement program. Known to develop innate musicality, Music Together's curriculum is informed by decades of research. Together we'll explore the best of Music Together's music but with a Jewish spin. After we are done singing and dancing, class will end with challah while we get to know each other and celebrate Shabbat.

Mixed age class (0-3). Register at for either class or both at:

<https://www.temple-israel.com/tots-at-temple-israel/> or scan the QR code.

Temple Israel's Open House & Brotherhood's ShaBaBeQue

There's a musical word we all know that actually originated 30 years earlier than its titled song, a word made up by student journalist Helen Herman who defined it as "all words in the category of something wonderful." This word is perhaps the best description of our Open House and ShaBaBeQue in August: supercalifragilisticexpialidocious!

Over 250 members and guests of all ages gathered to enjoy Family Fun, participate in worship services, explore the numerous programs and opportunities Temple Israel offers, and indulge on a delicious barbeque dinner. Raffle prizes, laughter, meeting new friends, sweet watermelon and ice cream... it was all truly scrumptious (ah, another Dick Van Dyke musical.)

We thank our partners at PJ Library and Sharsheret as well as our committees who were stationed at information tables, our Sisterhood and Membership Committee for taking the lead at our Open House, our Brotherhood for their sponsorship, cooking and serving, Temple Administrator Tamekia Graham who coordinated behind the scenes (and upfront), and our incredible event organizers – Open House Chairs Michell Escobar and Cindy McDonald, and ShaBaBeQue Chair Hugo Ottolenghi, who each did the lion's share. And kudos to Benjamin Bagatell, our phenomenal chef that evening!
